Your first visit will be to Trinity College Library and the Book of Kells followed by some free time to wander around the Grafton Street area in the heart of Dublin. Day 2: This is Knit Workshop with Lisa Sisk and the Guinness Storehouse

After breakfast, we visit This is Knit Yarn Store for a workshop with Lisa Sisk on the Moebius Knitting style followed by a workshop on the Glenties Cowl pattern which was designed by Lisa. You will work with Soft Donegal yarn from the mills of Studio Donegal in Kilcar for this class. In the afternoon, we will travel to Dublin's Guinness Storehouse for a guided tour. This evening is free for you to check out one of Dublin's many restaurants and bars.

Overnight in Dublin, Bed & Breakfast included.

Day 3: Tullamore D.E.W & the Aran Islands

Today we leave Dublin and head west. We stop at Tullamore D.E.W. Heritage Centre where we hear about how Daniel E. Williams went from stable boy to distillery manager to creating the renowned whiskey which still bears his initials today. There will be a brief stop in Galway city for lunch (not included) before we continue to Rossaveal in Galway to catch your ferry to Inis Mór, the largest of the three Aran Islands in Galway Bay. Meet with locals on arrival where you will be introduced to Aran life and hear all about the history of Dun Aonghasa. Dinner will be served at your hotel followed by a traditional Irish dancing lesson!

Overnight Inis Mór, Dinner and Bed & Breakfast.

Day 4: Inis Mór

Your morning on Inis Mór includes a knitting workshop where you will be instructed on traditional methods and stitches associated with the Aran Island way. Tour the island with a local guide and learn about over 50 different monuments of pre-Christian and Christian history. Visit the impressive fort of Dún Aonghasa with its three terraced walls surrounding an inner enclosure containing a platform on the edge of a 300 ft high cliff. It's important to note that there's a sharp incline as you walk to the fort and suitable footwear should be worn. It is not recommended for those who may have walking difficulties. The views from the top are quite breathtaking looking out over the Atlantic Ocean. You will also have the opportunity to visit some local knitwear shops on the island and enjoy a lunch (included) at Teach Nan Pháidí!

Overnight on Inis Mór, Lunch, Dinner and Bed & Breakfast.

Day 5: Knitting Workshop with Ciara Ní Reachtnín at the Museum of Country Life

After breakfast we take the ferry back to the mainland and travel through beautiful Connemara to the Museum of Country Life in Mayo. Lunch (included) will be followed by a workshop with Ciara Ní Reachtnín. Ciara draws elements of Irish and Celtic mythology in her work. She will focus on 'An Bradán Feasa' also known as 'The Salmon of Knowledge'. Ciara will demonstrate how to create simple slip stitch cables using two complementary yarn colours while only working with one colour at a time and also how to incorporate beads into the design. There will also be time to demonstrate an optional advanced closed cable motif which the more adventurous knitter might like to include in their project. Our final destination of the day will be Sligo to check into your hotel for the night.

Overnight Sligo, Lunch, Dinner and Bed & Breakfast included.

Day 6: W.B. Yeats' Grave, Donegal Yarns and Studio Donegal

Today, we travel towards Donegal on Ireland's northwest coast. We stop en route at the grave of W.B. Yeats at Drumcliffe Cemetery. Explore the final resting place of this great poet as well as the high cross and St. Columba's Church. We visit Donegal Yarns in southwest Donegal which is steeped in centuries of tradition of tweed yarns spun in locally in Donegal. Yarns date back over a hundred years and hence the internationally renowned 'Donegal Tweed' woven fabric and knitwear. Donegal Yarns operates a vertical production process from raw wool to a finished multi-coloured fleck yarn. Our next stop is at Studio Donegal where a hand-weaving and clothing manufacturing business is committed to preserving and promoting traditional Irish hand-weaving.

Enjoy seeing the process of hand-weaving from beginning to end including spinning, warping and weaving of the wool. Finally, arrive in Donegal town where you can spend the afternoon sightseeing or shopping where you will find many craft shops including Magee Tweed for you to pursue.

Overnight in Donegal, Dinner, Bed & Breakfast included.

Day 7: Edel MacBride Knitting Workshop, Slieve League Cliffs and Glencolmcille Folk Village

After breakfast one of Ireland's finest knitwear designers, Edel MacBride, will host you for an Aran knitting workshop. Participate in a core workshop including yarn pack working the best of Irish moss, cable and Edel's favourite – Aran stitches. After the workshop, take time for lunch (included) before setting off to Slieve League Cliffs. These cliffs are the highest accessible cliffs in Europe offering stunning views out over Donegal Bay. We travel further along the Donegal coast to Glencolmcille Folk Village where you will see a cluster of several small cottages called a 'clachán' which gives you a glimpse of early Irish living. Located in the Gaeltacht (Irish-speaking area) of South West Donegal, this folk village was built and maintained by the local people and is considered one of Ireland's best living history museums. This evening is free for you to enjoy Donegal town, listen to some traditional music, dine in one of the restaurants or take it easy back at your hotel.

Overnight in Donegal, Lunch and Bed & Breakfast included.

Day 8: The Causeway Coast and Belfast

Check out of your hotel and board your coach to embark on one of the top road trips worldwide – the Causeway Coastal Route. The road travels around a narrow strip of coastline with stunning sea views and majestic high cliffs. Our first stop is at the Giant's Causeway where over 60 million years ago, three great lava flows were laid down, cooling the basalt plateau into interlocking basalt columns. We will also visit the remains of Dunluce Castle perched on a dramatic headland which plunges directly down into the sea. Finally, we arrive in Belfast city where the rest of the day is free for you to check out the local pubs and restaurants.

Overnight in Belfast, Bed & Breakfast included.

Day 9: Titanic Belfast and Mourne Alpaca Farm

Today we travel just outside Belfast to visit Mourne Alpacas, a family-managed herd of Alpaca and pedigree angora goats. High quality fleeces are produced and their motto at the farm is "we breed for heat, not for meat”. Enjoy some time with the alpacas, take photos and feel free to ask questions about the fleece. Enjoy a cup of tea and browse through the quality alpaca yarns and some blend yarns on sale at the farm. Yarns in many natural colours of the alpaca and some stunning seasonal colour ranges, created from natural dyes are on display here. Mourne Alpaca fleeces are processed professionally at a dedicated mill but raw fleeces are also available here for purchase for anyone interested in home spinning. When we return to Belfast, we visit the Titanic, Belfast, built on the site of the former Harland & Wolff shipyard where the Titanic was originally constructed. This popular museum contains many galleries where scenes were reconstructed of Belfast at the time the ship was constructed, the launch, its maiden voyage, the sinking and aftermath. This is an interactive museum where technology brings the story of each scene to life. The rest of the evening is free for you to take in the sights of Belfast.

Overnight in Belfast, Bed & Breakfast included.

Day 10: Irish Linen Centre and Spinning & Tapestry Workshop

Historically, linen was a very important industry in Northern Ireland, so much so that Belfast was fondly known as ‘Linenopolis’! Your day begins with a visit to the Irish Linen Centre at the Lisburn Museum. This is a guided tour where you will hear about the history of linen production in the province of Ulster. We continue our journey down south to Drogheda to meet tapestry weaver and artist, Áine Dunne. Based in the Boyne Valley, Áine and her team will host a spinning and tapestry workshop where you will be introduced to hand spinning sheep’s wool by using a drop spindle. Have a go at weaving a sample piece on a four-sided tapestry frame loom! Return to Dublin and enjoy a farewell dinner with your group at a local restaurant.

Overnight in Dublin, Dinner (at a local restaurant) and Bed & Breakfast included.
